

North Carolina Satellite Reef Contributors/Artists

Working with the Wertheims and with partners in different communities throughout the state, NCMA programs staff coordinated workshops and contributions of crocheted coral specimens to create this large-scale sculptural installation.

Over four hundred people in North Carolina have made corals for this Reef, including fiber artists, crochet enthusiasts, craftivists, and crochet beginners. We acknowledge them all as co-artists here.

When the NCMA exhibition closes, the North Carolina Satellite Reef will travel to the NCMA affiliate Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art (SECCA) in Winston-Salem and be on view there later this summer.
